

Weatherman Tries Again

The determined weatherman, possibly going on the theory that the third time's a charm, forecasts rain for today, after two previous "dry runs." The mercury should be around 58, several degrees warmer than yesterday. Gentle winds will waft.

VOL. 44

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1957

NO. 62

'57 Edition of Revelries Commences Tonight

"DR. FAUSTUS" — Robert McNamara (left) as Mephistopheles and Frank Davidson as Dr. Faustus are shown with closed-circuit TV camera used in campus studio rehearsals of "The Tragical History of Dr. Faustus," which will be produced on KNTV, Channel 11, five, from 7-8:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dramatists Prepare 'Faustus' Showing

The Christopher Marlowe version of "Dr. Faustus," to be presented over KNTV, Channel 11, at 7 p.m. Sunday, is a play with two major parts and many very important minor parts, according to Frank Davidson, who plays the title role.

It is the story of a man who seeks knowledge for the sake of knowledge, making his big mistake when he sells his soul to Satan in

The great and tragic scene is when Dr. Faustus realizes that no matter what he does, he is doomed to damnation. He finds too late that man cannot overstep the boundaries of the knowledge which is meant to be within the human province.

"The Tragical History of Dr. Faustus" is the product of nearly an entire semester's work, according to the TV section of the Drama Department.

Ron Sherriffs designed all of the five settings as his master's thesis. Miss Bernice Prisk designed the costumes.

Cast includes Robert McNamara as Mephistopheles, Lee Devin as Robin, Don West as Rafe, James Dunn as Wagner, Ron Stokes as Lucifer and Richard Wilson as the chorus.

Orchestra Begins Concert Season

The SJS Music Department will present two concerts by the Symphony Orchestra Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 14 and 15 at 8:15 p.m. in the Concert Hall of the Music Building. W. Gibson Walters, associate professor of music, will direct the program which will be open to the public.

Opening number on the program will be a composition for brass and percussion, "Fanfare for the Common Man" by Aaron Copland. Beethoven's First Symphony will be performed by the group.

'Tape' Begins Five-Day Run

By JAMES STEVEN HUSHAW

"Red Tape," the much awaited all-student Revelries production, opens tonight at 8:15 o'clock in Morris Dailey Auditorium after more than three months of rehearsals.

"Red Tape" is the story of a group of European immigrants attempting to enter the United States, with the entire action of the production taking place in the offices of the assistant commissioner of immigration on Ellis Island in New York Harbor.

Among the immigrants is a trio of Russian Communists, a love-sick girl attempting to be reunited with her lover, a royal pair from Germany, an Englishman, and a most tempting French siren.

This group accounts for most of the action in "Red Tape," which will run tomorrow night and Jan. 17, 18 and 19. Tickets for tonight's and the remaining performances are on sale in the Student Affairs Business Office. Prices are $1 for general admission and 75 cents for students.

Bob Montilla, a co-author of "Red Tape" with Manny Correa, is the production director of the show. Montilla describes "Red Tape" as being a comedy with music.

Montilla and Correa wrote the lyrics for the show and Richard Tash produced the music. There are 13 musical numbers in the production.

RUSSIANS DOMINATE COMEDY

The comic leads in the show of Boris, Igor and Max are played by Bob Gordon, Jim Dunn and Don West. The situations this trio finds themselves involved in are the basis for most of the comedy in the show. Actually the three are Russian Communists with plans to blow up Yankee Stadium. The blunderings of the group are very humorous.

Barbara Norton, as Sonya, and Lee Devin, as Peter, have the romantic leads in the show. The pair were childhood sweethearts in Latvia, but were separated when Peter came to America. The struggle for Sonya to join Peter makes up the plot of the show, in which Sonya's truthfulness is her downfall.

More comedy is injected into the production with Desiree Soufflee, a French siren who has plans to start a chain of burlesque houses. She is played by Shirley Marhefka, and William Walters Witherspoon, an uprightness Englishman, is played by Bernie Gardner.

It is the story of girl chases boy, with William finally submitting to the advances of Desiree because of the rebirth of his love for the stage.

The "villain" in the show is Mr. Owens, the assistant commissioner of immigration, who is played by Dick Thomas. Mr. Owens learns that his first assumptions were false, and "comes through" before the final curtain rings down.

OUTSTANDING STAGE NUMBER

A considerable lift is given to the show by the five lovely flower girls Desiree has brought with her from France. Actually they are the start of her burlesque show. The quintet is Corleen Littlefield, Florine Trombetta, Darlene McCulough, Francene Silver and Barbara Johnson. The performance of "Bonne Nuit" by this group is reportedly one of the most outstanding stage numbers to come from Revelries in several years.

Grant Salzman and Celeste McAdam make up the show's royal pair as the Duke and Duchess of Hapsburg. Salzman will perform with a slight limp which is not part of the show. He was injured in a bus accident over Christmas vacation.

The two act show finds the first scene taking place on the morning of the fourth of July. The remainder of the show covers the evening of that holiday and the following morning.

The title song is sung by Commissioner Owens and the immigrants, who number 23 persons. One of the most humorous numbers, Montilla feels, is the song presented by the three Russians, "The Salty, Salty, Salt Mines."

"Red Tape" pokes fun at several American ideals about immigration, as well as making a mock of the actions of the Communists.

Tickets Available For Feb. Grads

February graduates are urged to pick up their tickets to the January Dinner-Dance in Room 16 by Wednesday, Jan. 23, according to Tom Bonetti, Senior Class president. The Dinner-Dance is scheduled for Thursday evening, Jan. 31, at 7 o'clock at Mariani's. A chicken dinner is on the menu. Extra bids for escorts can be purchased for $3.25 also in Room 16.

Vienna Educator Tells Audience 'Austrian Miracle'

Dr. Paul L. Dengler last night described the Vienna of 1945 as a "ruined, cold, desperate, hungry city." He said life under the Russian rule of that time was a "life lived in the shadows. We lived like rats. There was looting, raping, and murder. They just took what they wanted."

But the Austrian educator, whose talk was a highlight of the college Centennial year lecture series, went on to describe the Vienna of today as "a city more beautiful than ever. We have fine new homes, magnificent churches, theaters and concert halls."

Dr. Dengler referred to this transformation as "the Austrian miracle." And it all began "when the Russians finally left Vienna."

Speaking to a crowd of 200 in the Concert Hall of the Music Building, Dr. Dengler said the people of Austria today are happy and prosperous, "in spite of a life lived in the shadow of the iron curtain."

Dr. Dengler was introduced by President John T. Wahlquist.

Spartan Scrappers Seek Team Positions Saturday

By DON BECKER

Spartan boxers will have no qualms or trepidations about belting their buddies and teammates around this Saturday night during the 18th running of the All-College tourney to be held in the Spartan Gym starting at 8 o'clock.

Nine bouts are on the agenda and in six of these, the winner will grab the starting assignment for the first team meet Jan. 18 against a contingent of all-star Air Force pugilists.

Gaining a starting spot is considered a top prize by Coach Julie Menendez's boxers, particularly since this year's schedule easily is the best in SJS history.

If in other sports, San Jose is not big time, the boxing team certainly is. San Jose invariably produces one of the top ten ring squads in the nation. This year they will be taking on the best, including Wisconsin and Michigan State.

FIGHTS IMPORTANT

So the Saturday night scraps will mean a lot to each boxer and they doubtless will show it in the ring. Only the first string boxers will make the road trips.

Tabbing the top bout of the night is impossible to do in advance. Anyone of the battles that produces a varsity starter could win the best bout distinction.

No matter which is the best, all figure to be good. In the 139-lb. division, Al Julian and Stu Rubine will tangle. Both are good enough to make just about anybody's first string but only one can make the starting squad so one is going to be relegated to a #### second fiddle position.

JULIAN IS LETTERMAN

Neither are figuring on losing, Julian, a two-year letterman, is the only senior on the team. He was a bright spot on last year's crew and he has to rate the edge in his bout. He is tall, 5-11, for his weight and he expects to keep the short, stocky Rubine from getting inside.

Rubine is the stronger of the two and behind him are two years of Army boxing. He is bullish but can also box though he will be at a disadvantage if he tries to play it "cute" with the clever Julian. For a win, Rubine will have to get inside Julian's long arms and land short, telling blows. The contrasting style of the two should produce a thrill-packed bout.

Of the same magnitude and order will be the 147-lb. tussle between Jack Montgomery and Weylin "Windmill" Stroud. Montgomery began boxing at San Jose in 1952. He is a rugged musclemen who has not quite reached his potential. This will be his last year on the team since he plans to be graduated though still having another year of eligibility.

But to obtain the final year he

President Eisenhower Seeks Unity In Annual 'State of Union' Message

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower called Thursday for a new measure of American unity and effort to continue prosperity at home and meet the continuing threat of "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship" abroad.

In his annual State of the Union message, Mr. Eisenhower asked not only for the cooperation of Congress but "a personal effort of dedication" by every American to help establish "a secure world order." He said that in such a world the United States can continue to prosper and resources "now dissipated on the armaments of war" can be released by all nations to help raise the world standard of living.

On the domestic front, Mr. Eisenhower found America enjoying an "unprecedented peak" of prosperity. But he said there is a continuing threat of inflation which can materially damage the current economy.

He also said that wage increases and other labor benefits should be "reasonably related" to productivity. He said that pay boosts that outrun prices and productivity contribute to inflation.

In the troubled international field, the President said the existence of "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship"—obviously Russia and her satellites—threatened the security of the United States.

He repeated his recommendation for an "open skies" agreement among nations for mutual inspection of armaments by "unarmed aerial sentinels." And he again recommended that the United Nations persist toward the goal of reduced armaments, pledging this country's continued efforts in this direction.

He included these specific requests:

1. A school construction bill which should be given "high priority."
2. A four-point civil rights program which he recommended last year, but which did not pass Congress.
3. Prompt action on Legislation to "regularize" the status of Hungarian refugees admitted to this country as parolees. He also said he shortly would send Congress a special message asking for changes in the immigration laws.
4. An appreciable increase in appropriations for the U.S. Information Agency to strengthen the voice of freedom against Communist propaganda.

Entertainment Highlights Weekend

If you have access to a television set Sunday evening, we suggest you tune in at 7 o'clock to Channel 11, KNTV. If you do, you will find yourself watching several "firsts" in San Jose State and television drama history.

Our Drama Department will produce at that time Christopher Marlowe's "The Tragical History of Dr. Faustus." It will be a "live" 90-minute TV "spectacular," the first to be attempted by our ambitious drama personnel.

The event will, in all, mark the first time that this play has been presented on TV, the first time any college or university has presented an hour and a half TV drama and the first time a student has had full charge of set design.

The show, which is being presented by the Drama Department as part of the Centennial Year activities, is produced and directed by Robert I. Guy, assistant professor of drama. Guy's renown in this field needs no further expostulation from us.

All of the settings for the show were designed by Ron Sherriffs. Apparently these settings are of a complicated design, but from all indications Sherriffs has done a magnificent job.

There may be larger drama departments on the West Coast than the one on this campus, but it is becoming more and more obvious as the years go by, accompanied by success after success, that the San Jose State Drama Department has established itself along side of the very best.

While on the subject of the fine arts, we might just remind you that another "spectacular" production gets underway tonight at 8:15 o'clock. By now, nearly everyone must be familiar with the name and plot of the 1957 edition of Revelries, "Red Tape."

The play, written by Manny Correa and Bob Montilla, and produced and directed by Montilla, features an all-star, all-student cast. Besides offering a lot of chuckles, the show will prove just how talented our fellow students are.

Here's Collegiate Story of Success-- Modern Day Style

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — Four years ago, David Falk's father gave him $5,000 and told him to go to college with it.

Saturday, the University of Wisconsin disclosed how the Hampton, Va., youth got rich, educated and married with his father's gift.

Falk came to Wisconsin to study dairy husbandry. Instead of hoarding his $5,000, he invested it right away as the down payment for a men's boarding house.

He began with 24 lodgers, two apartments and a room for himself. He used his extra income from the house, which he remodeled during the summer, to buy 47 acres of woodland.

After that, Falk divided the oak woods into three sections and sold two of them, receiving "much more than I paid for the whole 47 acres."

Then he bought another rooming house, repaired it and filled it up. Next, he traded his first house for another, coming out with a good cash profit on the deal.

Now 21 years old, Falk has begun selling out before he is graduated.

His only black mark at the university was a "D" he got in one course. The subject — real estate.

MAJOR CONTRIBUTION — Dr. Epaminondas Panagopoulos, assistant professor of history, has, according to the editors of the "American Historical Review," made a "major contribution to the understanding and knowledge of one of our founding fathers," with his recent discovery of 112 pages of notes written in 1776 by 20-year-old Alexander Hamilton.

History Professor Discovers 1776 Writings by A. Hamilton

Dr. Epaminondas Panagopoulos, assistant professor of history, a native of Greece and one of that country's most highly honored war heroes, has discovered 112 pages of notes written by then 20-year-old Alexander Hamilton in 1776.

Editors of the "American Historical Review" call the find a "major contribution to the understanding and knowledge of one of our founding fathers."

Dr. Panagopoulos will announce his discovery in an essay to appear in this month's issue of the magazine. The essay will include his analysis of the Hamilton notes.

Dr. Panagopoulos made his discovery in the Library of Congress. The notes were written in a pay book that young Hamilton kept while he served as a captain of artillery during the Revolutionary War. They show where he got much of his information and many of his ideas. And they include a detailed commentary on current events, as well as comments and interpretations of the books he read.

IMPORTANT NOTES
"The notes," Dr. Panagopoulos said, "are very important. They will help us to figure out where Hamilton got his political and economic theories. And they will provide us with many insights into the workings of his mind."

In recognition of this contribution, Dr. Panagopoulos has been chosen to serve on the Congressional Alexander Hamilton Bicentennial Commission Advisory Committee.

Such honors are nothing new to this soft-spoken man who took time out from his studies at the University of Athens during World War II to help rid Greece of Mussolini's invading armies. He won the Golden Medal for Gallantry, his country's highest decoration, for his war efforts.

Dr. Panagopoulos won this medal, the equivalent of our Congressional Medal of Honor, in 1940. During a pitched battle for a vital enemy-held area, his citation reads, he "showed incomparable courage and braved heavy enemy machine-gun fire to successfully outflank and occupy enemy positions."

While he was occupying these positions he captured 10 mortars, 12 machine-guns and 50 prisoners. This in spite of injuries that included a broken jaw and a machine-gun bullet in his lung.

Dr. Panagopoulos won a battlefield promotion on the spot. And he was later promoted to major.

ACTUALLY A SCHOLAR
But he is not a soldier. He is a scholar. So, when Greece was free once again, he returned to the University of Athens, where he had received a law degree in 1940, and in 1946 was awarded his M.A. in economics and political science.

In September of that year he came to the United States and enrolled at the University of Chicago, where he earned a Ph.D. in American History in 1952.

But Dr. Panagopoulos did not spend all his time studying while at the University. He also wooed and won another student. Her name is Beata, and she too is a native of Athens. They now have two children, Peter, 6, and Beata, 3, and they make their home in Santa Clara.

Senior Facing Graduation Reminsces; Receives Education, Good Time, Too

By CLARK BIGGS

As graduation nears a senior tends to reminisce over his college career — what he has done — what he should have done — what he should not have done.

He usually feels he has received an education and had a good time while receiving it. That theory is to study enough to retain a B average but not let it infringe on recreation and relaxation. He is usually sorry he did not take one more unit each semester so he could loaf a little more his senior year before being thrown to the wolves in the cruel world on the outside.

But as Sammy Senior is laboring to raise his grade point average to a C average for graduation he thinks of those persons who, while disguised as friends, lured him into taking Traffic Management, Music Appreciation, Analytic Geometry and News-writing as snap electives to fatten the grade-point average.

On the more social side of the college education, he looks back to see those tremendous freshmen girls at whom he looked but did not act and are now lost forever behind the ring or pin of one of the campus hustlers.

And as graduation looms on the horizon most seniors must look out to find khaki as a color in their future. The "luckier" ones were fortunate enough to have been called to defend their country during the recent "police action" in the Far East.

Altogether, the events which make up a college education are unforgettable and make a lasting impression on students which is of benefit throughout life.

About Those Flicks

By DICK O'CONNOR

For a man about to be turned into a pumpkin by the first rain, Sugar Daddy Clark Gable doesn't act worried.

The King wallows in beauties as the title—"The King and Four Queens"—indicates. C. Gable is getting old for that sort of thing.

The four queens are exactly that. There is at least one to please the most discriminating of flick-viewers.

Maybe it would be the passionate Spanish lass who says "Everything I have is yours."

Or possibly the quiet blonde that accompanies the King to the well for water. The all day trip that results in about 10 gallons of water and distance traveled of about 500 yards draws the suspicion of the mother "hen".

After long and careful thought she emotes the classic line "You two couldn't have been getting water all that time." Smart girl for an old timer.

Then there is Dorothy Parker as the conniving redhead. A queen among queens, this witty girl has all the angles normally allotted to a female of the species.

Last but not least there is the blonde. Last for no particular reason and least in no way, this girl is the reason for the term "stacked deck". She is that.

The plot, a flimsy thing that is not allowed to bother the audience, tells of the four queens and their protector.

It seems a blast in a church kills three of the husbands of the four queens. One escapes.

All of the four are sons of the "hen." She feels that because the identity of the one brother not killed in the explosion is unknown, all four wives should stay and wait for his return.

He doesn't, but along comes Clark. He is informed that he can stay in this "out west harem" until the first rain.

Clark, the King in the 20's, a Jack in the 30's, perhaps equal to a seven in the 40's and no better than a duce now, makes hay until the rains.

For entertainment the flick is great. There is no serious acting but then Gable never was accused of that sort of thing anyway.

Top billing should go to that blonde we mentioned in the eighth paragraph.

She would be a doll in the San Jose State Revelries. The only thing that would stop her would be college entrance requirements.

They could produce Revelries in a grade school and the same thing, intelligence, would exclude her.

She dances very well and sings some. About as close to the right key as "Princess Grace" does on "True Love."

Top acting performance in this desert island goes western thing is turned in by Jo Van Fleet as the mother.

The thing that most viewers will remember is the utter disdain for clothes shown by the blonde. Run, students, do not walk.

Matmen In PA-AAU Junior Meet

Unbeaten Wrestlers Vie In Berkeley Tourney

Still unbeaten, the San Jose State wrestling team will compete in the Pacific Association Amateur Athletic Association Junior Wrestling Tournament at Berkeley YMCA tomorrow.

Wednesday night the Spartan grapplers continued a win streak that has now reached four matches and tournaments.

Latest victims of Coach Hugh Mumby's team was the strong Olympic Club squad. The OC team went down to defeat by a 23-13 margin at Spartan Gym.

It marked the second duel meet win for the locals and the first loss for the Olympians. Next duel meet for the Raiders wranglers will be against Santa Clara Tuesday night.

The win over the Olympic Club proved to be a case of superior manpower as the Olympians were unable to provide competition for San Jose in three weight divisions.

Winning the easy way for San Jose were George Sanders in the 130-pound class, Ron Phillips at 177 pounds and Russ Camilleri in the heavyweight class.

With a 15 point edge in those three bouts the Spartans were never headed.

Top match of the meet was the 167-pound battle between San Jose's Ken Spagnola and perennial grappler Dr. M. A. Northrup of the Olympic Club.

Dr. Northrup, a 20-year plus veteran of the mat sport, was wrestling before Spagnola was born and should have stopped before he met the local lad.

Spagnola pinned Northrup in 4:57 to add another five points to the SJS total.

The only other competitive victory for the Spartans came when Lynn Brooks took a decision from Bob Morgan of the visitors in the 147-pound division.

The OC team took 137, 157 and 191 pound bouts. Pete Vossler, 137 pound division pinned SJS's L. D. Bennett, Don Scrimger decided Dale Doig of the Spartans at 157, and in another top match, Gil Newcomb pinned Bill Sikles of San Jose at 191 pounds.

STARTING SPARTAN—Marv Branstrom, San Jose State's 6-foot, 7-inch junior, gets the starting call at center tonight when the Spartans face a strong Loyola five in Los Angeles. The Spartans remain in the City of Smog for a Saturday night date with George Pepperdine College. Both contests are California Basketball Assn. affairs. SJS is tied with Loyola for third place and already has posted an 80-54 victory over Pepperdine.

Team Positions on Line During Nine-Bout All-College Tourney

wants to have, he has to get by Stroud. This is a difficult job for anyone. Stroud uses an unusual style which is so unorthodox that his opponents oftentimes become frustrated. He tosses his punches with a relentlessness that keeps the pressure on his man all the time. They come overhand, underhand or anyway he can get them off.

Montgomery hits hard and could stop Stroud but he has not shown in past performances the ability to take a punch. Stroud, on the other hand, can take quite a bit and it takes more than a little to stop his windmill punches. The bout still rates a tossup.

Heavyweight opponents, Al Severino and Jim Jacques ought to put on a good show. Severino, a real veteran, would be rated a big favorite off gym performances but Jacques, who is not especially classy in workouts, seems to improve when he gets in the ring. In the past Jacques has appeared much like a guy letting off a lot of pent-up steam. If he gets going, he could win it, despite Severino's advantage in experience.

COOLIDGE 'RING TIGER'
Jack Coolidge, another tiger in the ring, leaves his customary 165-lb. division to take on 178-pounder Fred Burson. Coolidge should be an easy winner even though he is not the better boxer.

With Coolidge, it is simply a matter of being able to hit like a nuclear weapon. Menendez has opined that he thought Coolidge was behind on points in every bout he had last year. Despite this, he won eight, all by knockouts, losing but one.

Burson could nab the bout if he is able to stay away from a Coolidge haymaker. This has only been done once before, however, and Burson probably will go the way of most Coolidge opponents, to the canvas.

ALL BOUTS CLOSE

In the lighter weights, Bob Tafoya and Massey Utsonomiya go at 119-lbs. and Pete Cisneros shoots for the 125 lb. berth against John Hernandez. Like the aforementioned matches, both bouts should prove close.

Nick Akana, who will not compete in the tourney because of no suitable competition, will be the team's starting 132 lb. representative. For the tourney, Riff Maramonte and Frank Castillo will be the contenders in the 132-lb. class. Both are good boxers though not in the class of the former National AAU runner-up, Akana.

Rounding out the program will be a 156-lb. go between Roland Dalton and Jim Arman and a 165-lb. bout with Don Ruff and Jack Duignan contending.

TWO-MINUTE ROUNDS

Unlike the Novice tourney, the rounds will be of two-minute duration. Scores will be announced between rounds so fans and boxers will know where they stand.

The complete Saturday night bout slate:

119 lbs.—Bob Tafoya vs. Massey Utsonomiya
125 lbs.—Pete Cisneros vs. John Hernandez
132 lbs.—Riff Maramonte vs. Frank Castillo
139 lbs.—Al Julian vs. Stu Rubine
147 lbs.—Jack Montgomery vs. Welvin Stroud
156 lbs.—Roland Dalton vs. Jim Arman
165 lbs.—Don Ruff vs. Jack Duignan
178 lbs.—Jack Coolidge vs. Fred Burson
Hwt.—Al Severino vs. Jim Jacques

Buzz Ulrey Tops Frosh Basketball Scoring Race

Buzz Ulrey tops San Jose State freshman scoring as the Spartans prepare to face Santa Clara High Tuesday night in an effort to snap their four-game losing streak.

The game will be a preliminary to the California Basketball Assn. test between San Jose and Fresno State.

Ulrey, who played six games for the frosh before entering the service two years ago, has hit 30 field goals and 19 of 33 from the charity line for a 9.9 point per game average in eight tilts.

In facing the Panthers, the frosh will encounter no soft touch. Dean Giles, a former SJS hoop great, has one of the better prep teams in the area, spearheaded by three veterans.

Bob Lister (6-3) and Larry Guilford (6-4) both are juniors but have been first stringers since their freshman years. Lister topped the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League last year with a 17.3 per game mark. Ron Cachopo also started last year.

Spartanababe mentor Jerry Vroom still is looking for the proper starting unit. Lone SJS wins have been over Monterey Peninsula College and Bellarmine Prep, while the yearlings have bowed to Stanford, USF, Menlo College,

Better Late Than Never

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — William H. Schwinger left his watch on a train. He prized it highly, but extensive search and advertising didn't bring it back.

It came Tuesday by mail — 10 years later.
"I couldn't even tell where the package was mailed from," Schwinger said. "But I want to thank the person who returned my watch. Getting it back made yesterday one of the happiest days of my life."

Lions, Peps Foes Of Traveling Five

Members of Coach Walt McPherson's varsity cage team are hoping history will repeat itself tonight and tomorrow when they meet Loyola and Pepperdine.

Just about this time last year the Spartans made a similar trip south to meet these teams. On that jaunt the cagers defeated Pepperdine, 80-66, and came back the following evening to upset Loyola, 45-41.

McPherson is expected to open tonight's contest with the same quintet that drubbed the Waves, 80-54, here last Saturday. That would be Art Powell (6-2) and Gil Egeland (6-3) at forwards; Marv Branstrom (6-7) at center; and Eddie Diaz (5-11) and Don Rye (5-10) at guards.

Last season the Raiders dumped the Lions on the strength of some great rebounding by Branstrom. The big pivotman has been off lately, but Powell's recent show of board control will help considerably. The high-jumping San Diegoan also is beginning to find the basket with more frequency—hitting for 30 points in the past three games.

Diaz, the CBA's eight scorer, and Egeland, who hit for 17 against the Waves, are expected to provide much of the scoring punch.

San Jose opens its two-day excursion tonight at Loyola, against a Lion five, loaded with veterans. Coach Bill Donovan has been starting five lettermen regularly, three of whom were starters last season.

At the forward posts will be Garnet Brown (6-3) and Bill McMahon (6-4). Dick Bederet (6-3) will get the call at center and at guards will be Chuck Kevley (6-0) and Gene Pingatore (6-0).

Brown currently is second high scorer in the league with a 19.0 average. The other two tall men—Bederet and McMahon—have fallen below their 1956 averages, but both work the boards well. Bederet was chosen on the All-CBA second team last year, when he compiled a 15.8 average.

The Lions are expected to play a deliberate, ball-control type of game, not unlike the Spartans. They stick to the straight stuff for the most part and are regarded as good shooting club.

Thus far in CBA play, the Lions have won one and lost one, and are tied for third place with San Jose, College of the Pacific and University of San Francisco.

They opened CBA play with a 71-67 victory over Fresno State, with Brown dropping in 26 points for high honors. Last Saturday they traveled to Stockton where a hot COP squad defeated them, 84-67.

If the Spartans can get past Loyola, they should have less trouble with Pepperdine club, who continue their losing ways in league play. The Waves have never won in the CBA, having lost 16 in a row (all 14 last year and two this season).

In contrast to the Lions' slow-down play, the Waves are a run-and-shoot organization, cut from the Midwestern mold. Unfortunately, that is where the comparison ends.

The Waves, owners of a 2-23 record in 1956, will field a starting lineup of Fred Nightingale (6-3) and John Kasser (6-6) at forwards; Jack Crowther (6-5) at center, and the Taylors, George (6-2) and Mack (6-1) at guards.

Much of the Waves' strength is bound up in the injured ankle of Mack Taylor. When well—prior to the opening of CBA play—he was scoring at a 26-plus clip, but has slowed considerably since the injury. He hit for 18 against Santa Clara in the Waves' opening 54-84 loss, but was cut down to only four points by the defense of the Spartans' Rye.

The other Taylor, who is no relation, received mention for the All-CBA selections last season, but has failed to live up to expectations this year.

Nightingale, Kasser and Crowther, while all big men, have not handled the backboard chores as well as their mentor Robert (Duck) Dowell would like.

Drama Prof Named Ed Journal Editor

Dr. James H. Clancy, professor of drama, has been named editor of the Educational Theater Journal, national publication for secondary and college level educators in the drama field. Associate editor for two years, he is the first editor representing the West Coast educational theater.

The Journal was begun eight years ago as part of the Quarterly Journal of Speech, published by the National Speech Association. It became a separate publication when the need became apparent for a special magazine to accommodate the increasing interest in educational theater.

Annual AWS Tea Postponed 'Til Springtime

The Faculty Women's and Student's Tea, scheduled for Jan. 16, has been postponed and added as a function in Women's Week, March 4-8, according to Louann Mariani, AWS publicity chairman.

AWS is sponsoring one girl for Spartacamp and all interested are asked to write a statement why they would like to attend and turn it in to Mrs. Pritchard's office, Room 118, by noon, Friday, Jan. 11.

Plans now are underway for Women's Week, to be held this year between March 4 and 8. Applications are being accepted for chairman of the fashion show and tea, the chapel service, aquacade, and also sign-ups for helping with publicity for the event.

AWS will not meet Jan. 16.

Ed Prof To Attend Executive Meeting

Dr. Henry C. Meckel, professor of education, will leave for San Francisco today to attend a meeting of the Executive Committee of the California School Supervisors Association.

Dr. Meckel is this year's editor of "The California School Supervisor," the organization's publication.

Oriocis Plan For Fun Night This Evening

Spartan Oriocis, special interest club for students of Oriental background, plans a "fun night" this evening from 8-12 o'clock in Room 23 of the Women's Gym.

Elections for next semester's officers will be followed by games and folk dancing, according to Mas Hashimoto, group president.

Admission will be 10 cents for members and 25 cents for others.

Vets Transferring

Korean Veterans who are planning to transfer to another school at the end of the fall semester should notify the Korean Veterans Office as soon as possible, according to Mrs. Sue Rankin, secretary. A change of place of training form must be submitted to the Veterans Administration before transferring to another institution. A reduction in training allowance will occur if this deadline is not met.

Miss Koeck Voted Nurse President

The San Jose State College Student Nurses Association recently elected new officers to serve until February, 1958. Carolyn Koeck will act as president of the group.

Other new officers are Sheila Tordt, vice president; Carol Tupper, secretary; Nancy Namba, treasurer; Joan Princehouse, historian; Jean Jett, program chairman; Judy Hunter, general chairman; Pat Murphy, social chairman; and Wanda Gipson, publicity chairman.

The student nurses are planning a banquet to be held soon after the new semester begins.

Music Dept. Schedules Annual Reading Session

More than 125 music educators from the Bay Area will attend the third annual music materials reading session Saturday, Jan. 19, sponsored by the San Jose State College Music Department.

The reading sessions will be open to the public as well as music educators. Both new and standard compositions for band, orchestra and choir will be performed during the clinic, according to Dr. Forrest J. Baird, associate professor of music and general chairman of the event.

Foresters See Burned Area

The Forest Protection Class of Allen Jacobs, associate professor of botany, will take a field trip tomorrow to a burned area in the Santa Cruz Mountains, four miles south of Watterman Gap.

About 49 students will take the trip, Jacobs said. They will leave campus at 8 a.m. and return about 1 p.m. The area, about 100 square acres, was burned earlier this semester.

Jacobs' class previously visited the Santa Clara County Headquarters of the California Division of Forestry at Morgan Hill. The botany professor said this is one of the best, most well-equipped forest protection units in the state.

On the trip the group learned four different phases of forest protection from Head Ranger George Britton and his force. These included dispatching, weather, equipment and range improvement.

Final Interviews Set

Jan. 15 has been set as the final date for student-adviser interviews for students seeking teacher-education approval this semester. Appointments for these interviews must be made through the Credentials Office, Room 120, according to Marie S. Kaltenborn, credentials secretary.

Highlight of the program will be a demonstration of band rehearsal techniques to be held in the Concert Hall of the Music Building from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The Santa Clara County Honor Band, composed of 80 student musicians from high schools in Santa Clara County, will perform under the direction of Glenn C. Bainum, professor emeritus, Northwestern University. Professor Bainum is a noted arranger, composer, and guest conductor.

The first session will begin at 9 a.m. in Room M 125, when William J. Erlendson, associate professor of music, will direct the A Capella Choir. W. Gibson Walters will conduct the SJS Symphony Orchestra beginning at 10:45 a.m.

A band materials demonstration will be performed under the direction of Roger Muzzy, assistant professor of music and marching band director.

Interviews Slated By Organizations

Four organizations, Skinner & Hammond, certified public accountants, Owens-Corning Fiberglass, U.S. Naval Ordnance Labs, and U.S. Naval Test Stations will conduct campus interviews next week.

Skinner & Hammond, a San Francisco concern, will screen interviews Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. They will be interested in accountants.

Owens-Corning Fiberglass of Santa Clara will seek persons with backgrounding in mechanical, electrical, and civil engineering, industrial arts, and industrial technology.

U.S. Naval Ordnance Labs, located in Corona, Calif., and U.S. Naval Test Stations, situated at Pasadena and China Lake, Calif., will interview both Thursday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

'Flying Five' Really Pledges

The five young gentlemen "flying" about campus with bright red and white propellers on their heads are the new pledges of Alpha Eta Rho, San Jose State flying fraternity, according to Jerry Miller, vice president.

A formal initiation and dinner will be held for the aspiring aviators tomorrow night, Miller said. The initiation will be conducted at the old Little Theater at 6 o'clock. Lou's Village will be the setting for the dinner, which starts at 7:30 o'clock. Dancing is to follow.

The propeller-driven students are Duane Bright, John Crone, John Fulton, Bob Tice and George Wolfe.

MEETINGS

College Religious Council will meet Sunday at 8 a.m. at the Student Y.

Education Council will meet today at 2:30 p.m. in Room 59.

German Club will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Room 33. Movies will be shown.

Psi Chi will hold a panel discussion tonight at 7:30 o'clock at 16250 Greenwood Lane, Los Gatos.

Spartan Oriocis will hold an activities night tonight at 7 o'clock in the Women's Gym.

Pinnings, Engagements, Marriages Announced

BEAN-DAVISON

The former Mona Gail Bean and Don Davison were married Dec. 8 in Memorial Chapel. Davison, from Santa Barbara, is a junior advertising major. He is a member of VFW. The bride is a graduate of Chapman College and at present is employed as a lab technician at the County Hospital. She is from San Jose.

NICHOLS-DRAYLAND

Bob Nichols, Delta Sigma Phi, announced his pinning to Sharon Drayland Saturday night at the fraternity's annual Carnation Ball. Miss Drayland is a freshman education major from Mission San Jose. Nichols is a senior advertising major from Chico.

NISSWANDER-THOMPSON

A Dec. 22 marriage at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Redwood City united Jan Thompson, Alpha Chi Omega, and Larry Nisswander. The new Mrs. Nisswander is a senior K.P. major from Redwood City. Nisswander, stationed at Fort Ord, formerly was an engineering student at Cal Poly.

OEERTEL-HAYDEN

The engagement of Shirley Hayden, senior G.E. major from Petaluma, and Bob Oertel, a Petaluma rancher, was announced Jan. 7. Miss Hayden is student teaching in San Carlos. The couple plan a June wedding.

SMITH-SIMAS

Chocolates, a candle and a ring revealed the engagement of Kappa Delta Mary Anne Simas to Joseph Smith, senior chemistry major. Miss Simas is a senior librarian-ship major. From Cupertino, Smith is a member of Phi Upsilon Pi, chemistry fraternity.

STEPHENSON-CAPEZZOLI

A doll dressed as a cowboy revealed the engagement of Janis Capezzoli to Marlin Stephenson at the Theta house. Miss Capezzoli is a senior education major from Standish and Stephenson is a professional cowboy from Bragg, Okla.

WOLVERTON-BRANHAM

Muriel Branham announced her engagement to Chuck Wolverton at the Theta house by passing candy. Miss Branham is a senior interior decoration major from San Francisco. Wolverton, Theta Chi from San Jose, is a senior mechanical engineering major at Stanford.

YOHE-EWING

A toast by her father revealed the engagement of Dawn Ewing, senior journalism student, to Gene Yohe, UCLA senior. Both from Los Angeles, the couple has set no wedding date yet. While at Los Angeles Valley College, Miss Ewing was affiliated with Beta Phi Gamma. Yohe is a mechanical engineering student.

Methodists Begin Weekend Retreat

Westley Foundation, Methodist student center, will hold a retreat at Pacific Grove this weekend, beginning this evening and ending Sunday afternoon, to plan next semester's program.

Volleyball and other recreational activities, along with plans to attend movies will highlight the weekend program. Gary Butler, president, is in charge of the weekend program. Charles Sprick heads the transportation committee, Annette Klose, the recreation committee, and Sheryl Lewis, the food committee.

Approximately 23 people will attend the retreat at the home of Dick Alber in Pacific Grove.

Profs To Attend Home Ec Meeting

Miss Katherine Young and Miss Maie Nygren, assistant professors of home economics, will attend the Bay Section American Home Economics Association Saturday meeting.

"Research Inspires New Fashions in Living" will be the topic of the speech by Miss Beth Peterson, home economist for Dupont Company Extension Division. Mr. John Pella, fur stylist, designer and president of the Snyder Bros., Inc., will speak on "Fur Flattery for My Fair Lady."

Church Members Plan Singspiration

A monthly singspiration will be held Sunday evening at 9 o'clock in the parish house of the Trinity Episcopal Church, 81 N. 2nd St. The event, open to all campus religious groups, is sponsored by the Student Christian Council.

Psi Chis Hold Panel Tonight

Selection, placement and development of personnel in industry will be the subject of a panel discussion featured at tonight's meeting of Psi Chi, national psychology honorary society.

The meeting, taking place at 7:30 p.m., will be held at the home of Josephine Browlow, according to Donald Staigt, publicity chairman.

The panel members, employees of the General Electric Atomic Power Equipment Department, are Fred W. Snell, specialist technical recruiting; Roice H. Hubin, specialist education, training and personal development; and Merrill W. Hall, specialist employment.

Pictures for La Torre also will be taken.

Profs Carry Day In Latest 'Lyke' Magazine Edition

Our favorite scapegoat, teacher, so jeeringly portrayed in "Little Man on Campus" and other campus lore, has his day in the Semi-Centennial Edition of Lyke, campus feature magazine, due to appear on campus stands Wednesday.

The semester's second edition of Lyke carries a feature on student exam and classwork "goofs," allowing the proverbial underdog, the Spartan faculty member, to tell tales on Joe Campus for a change, according to Ted Faley, copy editor.

When Lyke asked faculty members to contribute material for the feature, the response, was "overwhelming" and the article, "Lyke as Not" will be continued in future issues, Faley said. Price of the magazine will be 25 cents.

History Students Present Findings

Ann Myren and Robert Beck, graduate history students, presented their findings on the relationship of the voting records and personal interests of Congressmen from New York and the Middle West during the period from 1875 to 1900 at last night's meeting of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity.

Miss Myren and Beck are members of Dr. Jackson T. Main's seminar class in United States history, which has been investigating this problem.

Queen Elizabeth Selects Chancellor, Harold MacMillan, Prime Minister

LONDON. — (UP) — Harold MacMillan was named Prime Minister of England to succeed Sir Anthony Eden Thursday.

MacMillan, 62-year-old former Chancellor of the Exchequer and favorite of right wing conservatives, was asked to form a new government by Queen Elizabeth II during a visit to Buckingham Palace yesterday afternoon.

Thus, just about 18 hours after Eden stepped down for reasons of health, the dapper son of an American mother was given the job of restoring Britain's prestige and economic stability after the Suez debacle. His rise to political prominence came only after World War II.

The jaunty MacMillan was picked over the other favorite contender for the job, R. A. Butler, 53, Lord Privy Seal and majority leader of the house of commons. Right wing conservatives had opposed Butler on grounds he was "soft" in dealing with Egypt over the Suez crisis.

RIDES WITH CHAUFFEUR

MacMillan rode to Buckingham Palace to receive the mandate from the Queen. During the trip he showed his usual lack of formality—he sat up front with his chauffeur.

The audience lasted 20 minutes, and a few moments before 2:30 p.m. (6:30 a.m. PST) the Palace announced briefly:

"The Queen received the Right Honorable Harold MacMillan, M. P., in audience this afternoon and

Scabbard, Blade To Select Officers

Scabbard and Blade, upper division Army ROTC honor society, will hold a meeting Sunday night at 7 o'clock in B45.

Nominations of club officers for next semester will be held. Plans for the annual Military Ball also will be discussed. The Military Ball is the Army ROTC's social highlight of the year.

Sport Car Models Shown Tomorrow

Industrial Arts Club will sponsor a formal showing of 1957 sports car models tomorrow morning in the L.A. Inner Quad. The time of showing will be from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Club personnel will be in attendance to answer questions concerning the autos on display. Admission is free.

offered him the post of Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury.

KISSES ROYAL HANDS

"Mr. MacMillan accepted Her Majesty's offer and kissed her hands upon his appointment."

The decision to name a Prime Minister belongs to the Queen alone. But usually she picks a man who can muster a majority of the house of commons.

In this case, with the conservatives holding a 58-seat edge in the house, she chose MacMillan because he seemed able to rally fellow party members behind his policies.

RIGHT WING VICTORY

MacMillan's appointment was a victory for the right wing conservatives, who rejected Butler because of his opposition to the Suez invasion.

In the same upstairs room of the Palace where Eden laid down his office last night, MacMillan carried out the ancient ceremony of kissing the Queen's hands in homage this afternoon.

Just 21 months ago, in that same second floor drawing room, Sir Winston Churchill himself had taken leave of office.

EDEN'S TERM SHORT

Eden was Churchill's protege, but his term as Prime Minister was a short one. In fact, only Bonar Law, who served for nine months after World War I, served a shorter period as Prime Minister in this century.

MacMillan has a lot in common with Churchill.

Like Churchill, he took office American—the former Helen Belles of Spencer, Ind.
